Foreword

I am Stef Claeyssens,
22 years old, final year Applied Computer Science student at University College Ghent and aspiring Full Stack Developer with a great love for Front-end development in web and mobile environments.
With my passion for "making" (from crafts to websites), I would describe myself as very creative and persevering, with a keen eye for detail and a strive for perfection. In my spare time I am an active leader and volunteer within the Scouts and Guides Flanders - Vuurtorengroep where, in my now 16 years, I have learned to work in a group with both young and old, to be flexible and communicative and have taken on a leadership role. With my eagerness to work and learn, I do not shy away from large projects and challenges.
